HOUSE BILL No. 345: A TROJAN HORSE IN DISGUISE

An Appeal by the Business Community in Quezon House Approved Against the Board Wage Increase

Perhaps unwittingly, the House of Representatives has been created a Trojan Horse looking like a house in passing House Bill No. 345 that mandarin a P225 per-day across-the-board wage increase over a period of three years, retroactive 31 October 2004.

With looming social, political and economic repercussions that will be brought about by this unscrupulous and unwise action wading re-act. The question is: From where will the Indonesian emerge to save the economy from this impending catastrophe?

A bit of the classic quote "Empire is Irrational" applies when the House of Representatives, the Senate and the Office of the President are major players, each equally capable of defusing the ticking bomb and emerge as the true protagonists.

We hope the Lower House will take action and defend it even before it reaches the Senate. We hope the Senate defends it if the Lower House proceeds to it to pass, and, we hope the President will veto the Bill if both the legislative bodies opt to get the interest of the nation above political considerations.

Living at a time when the economy is under pressure in many forms coupled global and domestic challenges, a legislated wage increase undermines the viability of most of the country's businesses, particularly the small and medium enterprise that are providing jobs to most Filipinos.

Implementing the proposed wage increase will result to a staggering 3.2 trillion pesos additional labor costs in the next three years. An increase of such magnitude, not related to productivity, will surely result to the demise of enterprises.

A legislated salary increase for all private sector workers will cause a chain reaction of disastrous proportions such as unprecedented spiraling cost-push inflation, pressure job losses and increased use of labor intensive operations or technology.

Like the undersigned representatives of the Philippine business community, we stand in opposing the legislated wage increase and call for the strengthening of the regional wage board.

Spare the rod, spoil your kids with love

By Dr. Jose C. Yabut
The parents of a 5-year-old boy in the Philippines are being criticized for using a stick to discipline their child.

With parents' negative behavior to children, they are not the parents we want. We want parents who are loving and understanding, who are not afraid to discipline their children, but who are not afraid to be gentle.

It's possible

Children are born with a natural ability to learn. They are not born with a natural ability to be obedient.

There is a great deal of research in the field of child development that shows that children who are disciplined with love are more likely to be obedient and to have a better relationship with their parents.

More positive ways

There are many ways to discipline a child. The most common is to use a stick. But there are many other ways to discipline a child.

Peso hits 6-year high,

Investment

The Philippine peso has reached its highest level in six years, hitting a record high of 46.50 per US dollar, according to the Philippine Statistics Authority (PSA). The peso's rise is attributed to a combination of factors, including a strong performance in the services sector and a decline in the trade deficit.

The PSA reported that the services sector contributed 1.5 percentage points to the growth of the peso. This was due to a strong performance in the tourism and business services sectors.

The peso's rise is also attributed to a decline in the trade deficit. The trade deficit fell by 1.5 percentage points in the third quarter of 2014, compared to the same quarter of 2013.

Lawyers offer gov't half of Marcos money

By Eugene Lopez
Manila, Philippines — A group of lawyers has offered the Philippine government half of the money they say was stolen by the late President Ferdinand Marcos and his family. The offer, which is the latest in a series of attempts to recover the Marcos family's ill-gotten gains, comes as the government prepares to launch a new campaign to recover the family's assets. The lawyers, who are part of a coalition known as the "Marcos Family Asset Recovery Team," say they have identified a number of assets that they believe belong to the Marcos family. They say they are willing to offer the government half of the value of these assets in exchange for the government's agreement to return the assets to the family. The offer is seen as a significant step towards the recovery of the Marcos family's assets, which are estimated to be worth billions of dollars. The government has previously rejected similar offers, but this one is seen as more serious. The lawyers say they are willing to provide evidence to support their claims. The government has agreed to consider the offer. The offer is seen as a significant step towards the recovery of the Marcos family's assets, which are estimated to be worth billions of dollars. Buyers, gov't defer sale of PLDT stake

By Eugene Lopez
Manila, Philippines — The sale of a 10 percent stake in the Philippine Long Distance Telephone Company (PLDT) has been postponed. The sale was originally scheduled for last week, but it has been delayed until next week. The reason for the delay is that the buyers, who are the Philippine government and a group of private investors, have not yet agreed on the terms of the sale. The sale is part of a larger plan to privatize the PLDT. The government has a 60 percent stake in the company, and the private investors have a 40 percent stake. The sale is expected to generate a significant amount of revenue for the government. The delay is seen as a setback for the privatization process. The government has agreed to consider the offer. The offer is seen as a significant step towards the recovery of the Marcos family's assets, which are estimated to be worth billions of dollars. The government has previously rejected similar offers, but this one is seen as more serious. The lawyers say they are willing to provide evidence to support their claims. Giants, Realtors dispute last q' final berth

By Randy D. Smith

THE PHILIPPINE REALTOR ASSOCIATION (PRA) and the Philippine Basketball Association (PBA) are disputing the final berth for the last quarter of the season.

The PRA, which represents real estate professionals, claims that the PBA's current rules regarding the final berth are unfair. The PBA, on the other hand, insists that its rules are fair and that the PRA is overreacting.

The PBA's current rules state that the team with the best record in the regular season will earn the final berth. However, the PRA argues that this is unfair because it gives an advantage to teams that play more games.

As the film industry's most powerful and profitable medium, video has long been a key player in the success of many movies. But in recent years, it has become a more prominent force in its own right.

Apple's success
The company's success in the video market has been a major factor in its overall growth. Apple's iMovie and iDVD software have made it easy for consumers to create and share their own videos. This has led to a surge in the popularity of home video, and Apple has become a major player in the market.

Director's cut
Many directors have been using the video market to showcase their work. Directors like Martin Scorsese and Quentin Tarantino have released director's cuts of their films, which often include additional footage and commentary. This has allowed audiences to see the films from a different perspective, and has helped to build the reputation of these directors.

Music videos
The video market has also been a major force in the success of many music artists. Music videos have become an essential part of an artist's marketing strategy, and many artists have used the video market to promote their music. This has led to a surge in the popularity of music videos, and many artists have become major players in the market.
